ABOUT ME

In 2015, Donald Delali "Lali" Darke entered Black Pyramid Studios, a music studio located then in Kaneshie. He then recorded his first demo titled "Party" which featured an artist called Kido. Lali had his songs composed in the Twi language since he was inspired by Sarkodie to start music. He switched to compose in English upon being inspired by E.L's Bar II mixtape released in 2015. Lali began to diversify by singing in his mother tongue, Ga. He swept 3 musical awards during his high school days at Accra Academy. He's currently focusing on the Afrobeats genre and doing rap music occasionally. Lali is popularly known by the brand "LOTO", which is an acronym for "Lali On This One". His songs could be streamed by searching for the name "LALI onthisone" on all digital streaming platforms.
